Moo Yaa Experience

Moo Yaa also known as the sheanut oil is a very famous, very helpful and healthy oil got from the shea nut fruit seeds roasted then pounded and extracted. Learn and get to taste this natural oil in Dek Ngo Dish.

Yaa also known as Shea nut is a very special indigenous tree species that was long preserved by the Acholi people because of its unique purpose. Moo Yaa is used as a cosmetic good for new born babies skin even adults, stomach cleanser, aids digestion, great in foods like deg Ngo among other dishes.

Raw yaa is also edible like other fruits (green in color), it is common around season of May-July. Grime Safaris has added the Moo Yaa Experiences to Acholi tour experiences to blend well with the Acholi Culinary Experience, a moment that shows how ancient ways of doing things can still thrive in the modern day era.

Fort Patiko Adventure

Fort Patiko, also known as Baker's Fort, is a historical military fort in Patiko, Gulu District, Northern Uganda, built by Sir Samuel Baker in 1872. The fort was used as a base to suppress slave trade in the region. After Baker left in 1888, it was occupied by Emin Pasha and Charles Gordon, who served as governors of the Equatorial Province of the British Uganda Protectorate. Today, the ruins of the fort are a tourist attraction, offering a glimpse into Uganda's colonial past. Discover Fort Patiko with Grime Safaris starting from Gulu City.

After the half day Pottery and Weaving/Basketry Experiences with Grime Safaris, Grime Safaris Tour Guide and driver will take you straight for Fort Patiko for an historical and Acholi cultural adventure.
